Illumination out of the darkness

Last month, I had an unexpected and remarkable Jewish experience. Like many of you, I witnessed the total solar eclipse on the afternoon of April 8. I must admit that even with the media saturation and word-of-mouth hype leading up to the event, I presumed that, in the end, my reaction would be non-plussed.

Well...I was wrong! Not only was the eclipse an extraordinary and singular event that touched my humanity, but it also stirred my Jewish soul in unanticipated ways.

As a resident of Northeast Ohio, I felt very fortunate to be squarely in the path of totality. Unlike millions of others who had to plan, strategize, and travel great distances to be in just the right location at the right time, I was able to simply step outside and witness this natural phenomenon (with the appropriate eye protection, of course!). And, in my post-eclipse

Bar Mitzvah announcement

Jacob Edward Shkolnik will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on May 4, 2024. He is the son of Jennifer and Josh Shkolnik and brother of Sam, Allison, and Emily. Jacob attends The Lippman School, where he is in the 7th grade.

For his Mitzvah Project, Jake spent several hours volunteering at the synagogue — most recently helping set up for the Beth El Raffle, the community Purim Carnival and running the snow cone machine!

In his spare time, Jake enjoys spending time with his 3 dogs, he is the Lippman Mascot — a lion — for school events, and loves spending his summers at Camp Livingston.

The congregation is cordially invited to a Kiddush immediately following services. Kiddush is sponsored by Raymond Ott, Carol Shkolnik & Andy Meyers, and Bobbie & Steven Shkolnik. Bima flowers are sponsored by Sam, Allison & Emily.

Our Mission Statement

Beth El Congregation is a Conservative synagogue that meets the spiritual and social needs of our congregants by providing a welcoming, vibrant and engaging community for Jewish life and religious practice in an egalitarian, progressive and caring environment.

From the Sisterhood

★ Taste of Torah, Monday, May 20, 7 p.m.

I hope all those who attended enjoyed the Beth El second Seder. Sisterhood underwrites this program. We sponsored the first Kugel Kook-Off. It was an amazing success. Thank you to Kay for organizing this and to all those who participated. Please remit your Leagrams if you have not yet done so. This is our major fundraiser.

A special thank you to Ellen Moss and Lauren Schachter for arranging Passover greeting bags for some of our members who may not have had access to Passover items.

Our activities continue with Taste of Torah on the third Monday. Knitzvah meets monthly. There will be no L'chaim Cooking Class until June 24. Thank you to Kay and the Kiddush Crew for continuing to offer enhancements to our Shabbat lunches.

I mentioned last month the opportunity to underwrite a Sisterhood program. Please contact me if you are interested. Also if you have ideas for programs please let me know.

Beth El Congregation notes with sorrow the passing of

APRIL 7, 2024

Leila Marilyn Winer

Leila Marilyn Winer (Sheff) passed away on April 7, 2024 at age 94, surrounded by loving family members. She was predeceased by her husband Ben Winer, mother Rose Sheff, stepfather Isadore Sheff, and stepbrothers Leonard and Oscar Sheff.

Leila, in addition to being a masterful mahjong player, was an avid knitter and her sweaters and afghans were legendary, especially her baby afghans. Until stopped by a broken wrist, Leila made hundreds of baby afghans for children at Akron Children's Hospital. In addition, each of her grandchildren and great grandchildren as well as countless relatives' and friends' grandchildren have been wrapped in Leila's beautiful creations. More than anything, Leila loved her family.

She is survived by her children Leonard (Charlene) Winer, Avrohom (Etta) Winer and Stephanie (Les) Schreiber; grandchildren Joshua (Michelle) Winer, Ira (Lisa) Winer, Shoshana Winer (Tim Stubbs), Menachem (Esti) Winer, Yeruchem Winer, Leora (Eli) Gunzburg, Tova (Eli) Benzaquen, Sarah (Moshe) Weiner, Emunah Winer, Sarah (David) Hecht, and Marni Schreiber; and 31 great grandchildren.

conversations, everyone with whom I've spoken appears to have had the same powerful reaction, marveling, as I did, during that roughly four-minute period. Just as others have been eager to share their thoughts and reactions with me, here are some of my takeaways and reflections about this once-in-a-lifetime experience.

1. I was filled with awe and wonder:

- Witnessing a total solar eclipse evoked a profound sense “Yirat Adonai” (Awe of the Divine), a sense of wonder as I considered how miraculous it is to live a world that is both predictable and yet permeated with Divine Sparks and evidence of Creation itself.

- As I gazed at the sun when it was completely blocked by the moon, I was reminded of how miniscule humankind is within the grand cosmic tapestry.

- Moments like these filled me with a sense of humility and a deep and abiding appreciation for the structure and organization of the universe.

2. I felt a sense of oneness with others through this shared experience:

- Eclipses bring people together. Millions of people stood in and outside the path of totality and shared this experience, and yet, the data suggests that throughout the world, only 1 in 10,000 people will EVER personally witness a total solar eclipse.

- Communities gathered, strangers became friends, and people took the opportunity to acknowledge their interconnectedness.

- At that shared moment, we were able to block out many of the distractions that tend to separate humanity, and focus more clearly on those things that we have in common.

3. I recognize that the eclipse provided additional data to feed scientific curiosity:

- Scientists were able to advance knowledge relating to the sun's corona, the Earth's ionosphere, and even changes in animal behavior during the eclipse.

- The eclipse motivated us to deepen our understanding of celestial phenomena and reconsider our place within the cosmos.

- Data gathered during this event can create an impetus to strive toward additional exploration and fuel scientific progress.

4. The eclipse offered me an opportunity to look inward and strive toward personal renewal:

- The darkness that I witnessed during totality prompted personal introspection; I paused, looked inward, and contemplated human existence.

- Just as the moon momentarily obscured the sun, I had the opportunity to reflect on the cyclical nature of life, the transitions that I have experienced, and the possibility of personal renewal that has come with each of those transitions.

- Witnessing the eclipse reminded me to not only observe change, but to embrace it and seek opportunities for growth.

5. I made time to appreciate the beauty of the natural world:

- The eclipse revealed the sun's corona—a powerful yet delicate, ethereal halo.

- It reminded me that I always have the capacity to appreciate beauty, even in unexpected places, and even during moments of darkness.

- I found myself inspired by the artistry and creativity of the natural world, which led me to express my heartfelt gratitude.

6. I learned about myself and others through the process of preparation and the resulting anticipation:

- Even though I didn't have to travel to view the total eclipse, fully preparing for the event involved forethought, doing research, and careful planning.

- As the weeks, days, hours, and minutes approached, I reaffirmed the value of patience, the necessity of adaptability, and the joy of anticipation.

- The countdown toward the eclipse created a sense of excitement and reminded me to savor the journey.

7. I reminded myself that although life is filled with ephemeral moments, they can be both recognized and savored:

- Even though the totality of the solar eclipse only lasted a few minutes, the experience has left an indelible mark on me.

- Like an eclipse, life can seem like a series of fleeting experiences. But if I strive to recognize those unique, ephemeral moments, I might discover that they are central to defining my life.

- The eclipse reminded me to seize the present and to create lasting memories.

Last month's total solar eclipse invited me to marvel, connect, learn, and appreciate the beauty of the world around me, to reflect on my relationships with others and with the Divine, and to briefly behold one of the great mysteries of the universe.

As I witnessed the moment, overwhelmed by all of these thoughts, I reined myself back in, to acknowledge that I am intimately connected to a people—our people, the Jewish people—who have been gifted with traditions that express thanks and wonder each and every day through the blessings of our tradition.

At that instant, I said the following blessing:

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יי
אֱלֹהֵינוּ מֶלֶךְ הָעוֹלָם
עֹשֶׂה מַעֲשֵׂה בְּרֵאשִׁית

*Baruch atah Adonai Eloheinu
Melech ha'olam, oseh ma'asei v'reishit*

Blessed are You, Adonai our God,
Ruler of the universe,

who makes the wonders of creation.

And I was grateful—grateful to be able to truly experience that moment, not just through my Beth-El-Raffle-provided eclipse safety glasses, but rather, through a vibrant Jewish lens!

Matzah Factory program

Religious School students learned about how to make Matzah with Rabbi Alevsky.

TAB SCRIBNER

Education Program

From game shows to Matzah-making, April was a month to remember

April was an incredible month for Religious School students. Coming off the excitement from Purim we met TWICE for Junior Congregation and learned that Hunter is master of “all things lunar” and the “Jewpardy” champion. It was great fun. We also participated in an Matzah Factory program with Rabbi Alevsky and learned the difference between Matzah and pita. Everyone had a good time learning the process of making Matzah from shelling the wheat husks to baking. It was great fun.

Sadly our time together this spring is coming to an end as our last sessions will be on Sunday May 5, and Tuesday May 7.

If you are interested in assisting with Sunday programs or have any special ideas to share for next year, please reach out to me as there is always something we can learn or share with each other that is helpful to our kids.

DAVID STOCK

These days, celebrations of freedom and loss take on special meaning

Greetings all,

I hope everyone had an enjoyable Passover filled with stories, delicious food, and meaning.

As we look to May, we will be observing and celebrating many important days. We will observe Holocaust Remembrance Day (Yom HaShoah), the Israeli Memorial Day (Yom HaZikaron), Israeli Independence Day (Yom HaAtzmaut), and the American Memorial Day.

This year, these days take on new meaning. On Yom HaShoah, we remember the atrocities of the Holocaust and our promise of ‘never again.’ When the sirens blare on Yom HaZikaron, calling the country to a moment of silence, the entire State of Israel will be mourning and remembering not only the soldiers who died fighting for their country, but also the innocent men, women and children who died simply for living in Israel. While the tone may be muted on Yom HaAtzmaut this year, Israelis will still find a way to celebrate while continuing to defend their existence.

I also am reminded of our Memorial Day, in which we pay tribute and remember those who died fighting for the freedoms we cherish in our country today and gave us the ability to pursue a more perfect world.

All of these days remind me of celebrations and of loss. They remind me of victories and atrocities. In all of that, I am also reminded of the words of our country’s founding document, “We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union... establish this Constitution...” Our country was established on the principle of forming a MORE perfect union and striving toward continual growth.

From that perspective, I remember all those that came before us, all their pursuits and all their sacrifices. Some were thrown to battle and some volunteered. What did they fight for? I think to form a more perfect world. I remember all of them and I think we all pursue the same vision: to better our communities and those around us. So many of us do this every day, whether we are knitting belongings to keep our friends warm, building companies to increase community’s productivity and economic base, or just lending a hand when we can offer it. I thank all of you for all that you do and gratefully remember all those that came before us. Zichronam l’vracha.

Thank you,

DAVID STOCK, CO-PRESIDENT
