Rosh Hashanah in August? A tale of two holy days

What is the connection between Tisha B'av (the Ninth of Av) and Rosh Hashanah? On the surface it may appear that there could not be two more different Jewish holy days than this pair. Tisha B'av is known as the saddest day of the year, while Rosh Hashanah, the time of the sounding of the shofar, is a reflection of our great rejoicing as the New Year, with all of its promises of renewal, begins again. How could these two possibly be connected?

This year we will begin our communal observance of Tisha B'av on Mazal Tov!

Talia Marie Moskovitz will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on August 31, 2024. She is the daughter of Aaron and Rebecca Moskovitz, and the sister of Liliana.

Talia attends Kimpton Middle School where she is in the 7th Grade.

For her mitzvah project, Talia volunteered at "A Place for Everyone" daycare where she engaged with toddlers during reading, art, and music activities. Talia is also collecting art and simple music supplies (Egg shakers, tambourines, rhythm sticks, maracas, finger cymbals, etc.) for both the daycare and the Stow Munroe Falls City School District. She will collect these from August to early September. Send items directly to her or by dropping them off in the designated box at the synagogue.

In her spare time, Talia enjoys dancing, singing, hanging out with friends and spending time with family.

The congregation is cordially invited to a Kiddush immediately following services. Kiddush is sponsored by the Moskovitz Family. Bima flowers are sponsored by grandparents Helen Moskovitz and Steve and Renee Blau.

From the Sisterhood

I hope that you are all enjoying your summer. We are working on a calendar of events for the coming year. Watch for announcements. Our Kiddush Crew has been busy cooking and baking for the enhancements for our Shabbat Kiddush lunches. If you are interested in helping please contact Kay. Please consider sponsoring a Kiddush for a special occasion.

There are other opportunities to help Sisterhood with sponsorship. Join Andrea and Sid Steinberger in sponsoring our 2nd day Rosh Hashanah lunch. There is also an opportunity for Simchat Torah. A special thank you to Alice Schneider who is generously sponsoring the Beth El BBQ in September.

Please feel free to contact me with any suggestions.

Get ready to welcome new school year

It might be summer, but we've been hard at work putting together next year's programming for the children. I am especially excited to share that Lauren Schachter will be joining our staff this year working with our youngest students on Tuesdays AND Sundays. Lauren is a very experienced religious school teacher, she is full of energy, and very eager to get started with the children. I am especially thrilled with her joining us on Sundays as that will allow us the opportunity to split into different groups for various activities, and generally make a better experience for both younger and older students. I am so happy she is joining us this year.

Our school year will start on Tuesday, September 3rd, followed by a Sunday program "The Shabbat Box", and then we will be visited by a sofer on September 10th and then (can you feel the excitement yet?) we'll get to have our first Junior Congregation on Saturday September 14th!

I don't know about you, but I am so ready for the year to start. I can't wait to see you all!

If you are as excited as I am, and interested in assisting with Sunday programs or have any special ideas to share for next year, please reach out to me as there is always something we can learn or share with each other that is helpful to our students.

Tree of Life

Our magnificent Tree of Life was created to record the happy events in the lives of Beth El members and their families. A birth, a wedding, a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, a confirmation, an anniversary — all are among the milestones that can be remembered on the leaves of the Tree of Life.

The cost of a leaf is $125. You may use three or four lines with up to 23 letters per line. To order, call Sherri Leubitz (330)867-0364

Monday night, August 12 at 8:00 p.m. As I am sure you are aware, this day traditionally marks numerous calamities in the history of our people. It is the lone holiday in our Jewish liturgical calendar that takes place during the summer months—months when we often spend quality, leisure time with our families, when our children and/or grandchildren are not in school, and when preparations for the coming of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are perhaps the furthest thing from our minds.

How can historical events like the destruction of our Holy Temples in Jerusalem—events so far removed from our own personal experiences—continue to hold such powerful memories for us as a people? How do our outward signs of mourning for these and other losses in our historical past propel us forward into our future? How do we internalize and transform the message of Tisha B'av so that it can become meaningful for us, even today?

According to the Mishnah, the fasting and other customs observed on the Ninth of Av are attributed to five different calamitous events that occurred on that day in our history:

- ★ The twelve spies, sent out by Moses to scout out Canaan, returned from their mission on that day; all except Joshua and Caleb were filled with a great fear and expressed the people's lack of faith in God to fulfill His promises.

- ★ The First Temple, built by King Solomon, was destroyed in 586 BCE, after which the Israelites were sent into Babylonian exile.

- ★ The Second Temple, built by Ezra and Nehemiah, was destroyed in 70 CE by the Romans, once again sending the Jewish people out of the land.

- ★ In 132 CE the Romans violently ended the Bar Kochbah Revolt.

- ★ In 133 CE the Romans completely destroyed the site of the Temple and its surrounding area.

Subsequent events representing destruction and loss are also associated with this day in history, including the declaration of the First Crusade (1095), the expulsion of the Jews from England (1290), the expulsion of the Jews from Spain (1492), the beginning of WWI (1914), and the mass deportation of Jews from the Warsaw Ghetto (1942), among others. With the many communal losses that we have experienced over the centuries, Tisha B'av becomes a focal point for our pain and overwhelming sadness over loss of life and endless oppression. It is also, however, out of that expression of grief, that we prepare ourselves for the consolation and affirmation that is to follow.

How does our liturgy prepare us for this time of year and propel us forward, beyond our grief?

The days that lead up to Tisha B'av include a time commonly referred to as “The Three Weeks,” a period when we begin semi-mourning practices of austerity. It is during these weeks when we read the three “Haftarot of Affliction” on Shabbat mornings, special readings from the Prophets that foretell the destruction of Jerusalem and the disbursement of our people. The next level of mourning observances began on Rosh Chodesh Av and intensified across nine days. These restrictions may have included the withholding of eating meat or drinking wine (other than on Shabbat), or any one of a number of other regular activities that could bring us joy.

On the Shabbat immediately before Tisha B'av, “Shabbat Chazon,” there is a foreshadowing of the deep sadness we will experience through our exile and destruction, seen especially in the Ashkenazic custom of chanting the day's Haftarah in a combination of regular Haftarah trope and the special cantillation of Eicha (the Book of Lamentations). The juxtaposition of these two melodies is startling—one expressing the coming destruction and desolation of exile, while the other the hope of rebuilding what comes in the future. Perhaps this is a true reflection of the Talmudic statement (BT Ta'anit 30b) that “all who mourn the destruction of Jerusalem will merit to rejoice in its rebuilding.” On Tisha B'av itself, in addition to fasting for twenty-five hours (as we do on Yom Kippur) we not only read from Eicha but also from various kinnot (liturgical elegies) during both evening and morning services.

Our demeanor during our davening is as if we were in a house of mourning—we sit on the floor or low stools, often read with low lights or by candlelight (or flashlights), and refrain from greeting others.

During the seven weeks that follow Tisha B'av, the starkness of our loss is slowly transformed into words of comfort, shown in the seven “Haftarot of Consolation,” which are chanted from the Ninth of Av to Rosh Hashanah, allowing us to gradually transform our mourning into joy, and rebuild our spiritual lives so that we approach the New Year with a renewed sense of faith, an appreciation for family and friends, and a desire to bring the community together. It is only natural that after one experiences loss, they look both inward and to others around them for strength and hope. As different as Tisha B'av and Rosh Hashanah appear on the surface, if we consider them as opposite sides of the same coin, they can truly motivate us to express our personal and communal need to begin again in the New Year.

How will you connect these two holy days this year?

L'shalom,
RABBI JEREMY LIPTON

Happy campers

Happy summer everyone!

In just a couple of weeks, my family will head to the northern woods of Wisconsin...willingly. We will be participating, for the second year, in family camp at Camp Interlaken JCC, a Jewish camp my wife attended growing up. Unlike me, who grew up in Chicago and Skokie, surrounded by Jewish life, she grew up in a much smaller Jewish community and camp was a place where she could truly be herself.

As Pew's research has shown, summer camps are one of the greatest predictors of children having strong Jewish identities as adults, along with youth groups and religious school.

For our next generation, we are incredibly fortunate at Beth El to have an amazing community that is so invested in their Jewish education. We have our wonderful school and Junior Congregation led by Tab Scribner as well as Mini-Minyan led by Becca Moscovitz. This past year we began our first teen programming in many years thanks to the hard work of Michelle Dickstein and are looking forward to building on Michelle's efforts.

The key concept, from my perspective, is that different Jewish youth find the foundations of their Jewish identities in different places. Some find it in services, some find it at home over Shabbat candles, and some find it at camp, whether it's Interlaken or one of the many wonderful Jewish camps within a short drive of Akron. As long as we continue to invest in those opportunities and make them available to our youngest members, we will continue to ensure that we pass on a vibrant Jewish community to the next generation, l'dor vador.

Wishing you all a peaceful end of summer,

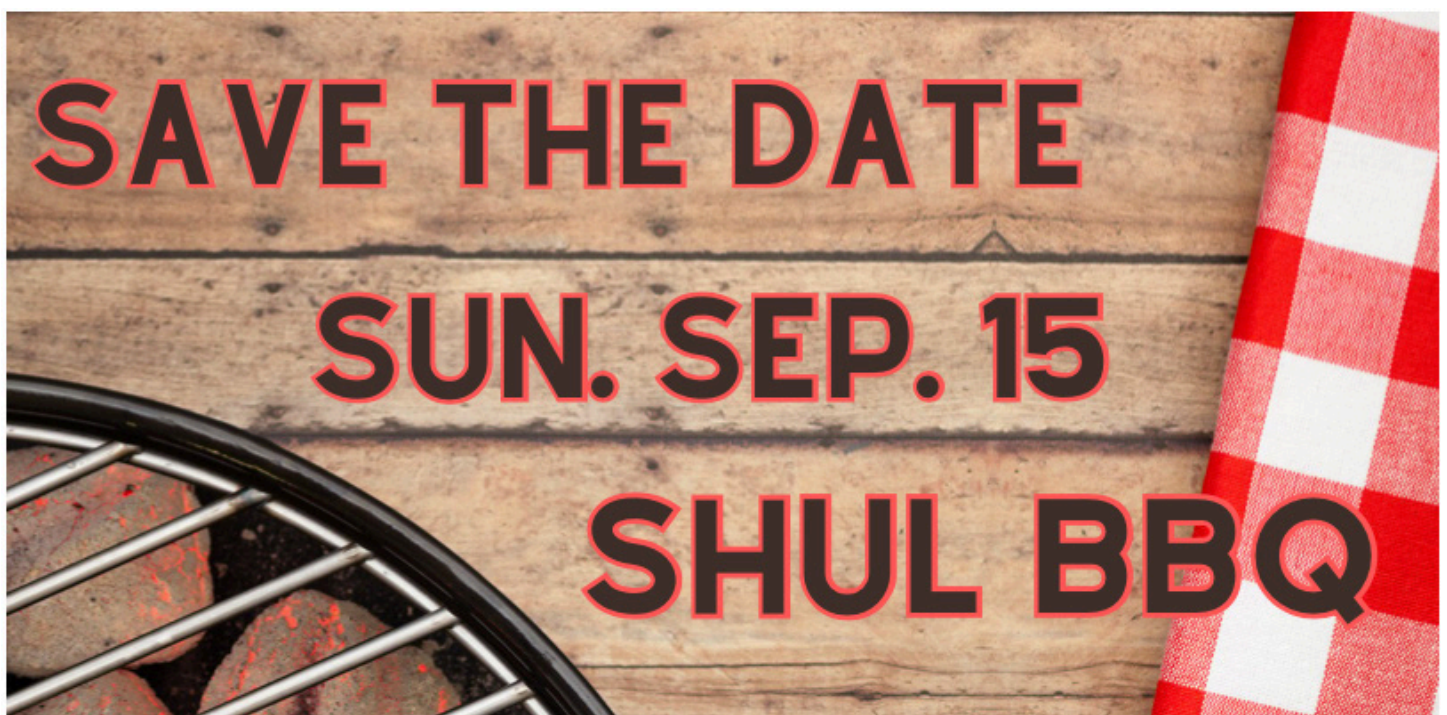

DAVID STOCK
CO-PRESIDENT

Donate non-perishables

Beth El has an easy and wonderful way to do meaningful Mitzvot!

Consider bringing non-perishable food items to donate. The magnificent wooden food basket crafted by Dick Rossen "OBM", is located just inside the main lobby door of the Synagogue. Let's see if we can fill the basket to the brim!
